

Tengiz Verulava, Temur Kalandadze

Health Care System in Georgia

The book covers a variety of health care issues and topics including history of Georgian Health, policy, legislation, human resources, financing, medical insurance, public health, quality, strategy, delivery of health care, organization of services and give an overview of the nature of the changes having occurred during transition

The aim of the book is to provide relevant comparative information to support policy-makers and analysts in the development of health care system and reform in the country.

Tbilisi. 2001.

Edited by Akaki Zoidze. Otar Gerzmava

Academy Sciences of Georgia. Scientific Publishing Company "Metsniereba"

ISBN 99928-0-219-7

Contents

1. The Country
 - 1.1. Geographical Location
 - 1.2. Administrative Division
 - 1.3. State System of Georgia
 - 1.4. Religion
 - 1.5. Climate
 - 1.6. Natural Resources
 - 1.7. History
 - 1.8. Economy
 - 1.9. Education
2. Employment, Incomes and the Social Safety Net
 - 2.1. Labor Market

- 2.2. Salaries and Wages
- 2.3. Minimum Subsistence Level
- 2.4. Social Safety Net
 - 2.4.1. State Social Allowance
 - 2.4.2. Unemployment Benefit
 - 2.4.3. Pension System
- 2.5. Social Policy
- 3. Population Dynamics
 - 3.1. Population and its Distribution
 - 3.2. Population by Ethnic Origin
 - 3.3. Urbanization
 - 3.4. Refugees and Displaced Persons
 - 3.5. Population Growth
 - 3.6. Structure of the Population by Age Groups
 - 3.7. Structure of the Population by Sex Groups
 - 3.8. Fertility, Abortion and Family Planning
- 4. Environment and Behavioral Determinants of Health
 - 4.1. Environment
 - 4.1.1. Air Pollution
 - 4.1.2. Soil
 - 4.1.3. Water Supply
 - 4.2. Social-economical Determinants
 - 4.3. Determinants Related to Personal Behavior
 - 4.3.1. Life Style
 - 4.3.2. Nutrition
 - 4.3.3. Tobacco Consumption
 - 4.3.4. Alcohol Consumption
 - 4.3.5. Drug Abuse
- 5. Health Status
 - 5.1. Life Expectancy at Birth
 - 5.2. Birth Rate
 - 5.3. General Mortality
 - 5.4. Infant Mortality
 - 5.5. Maternal Mortality
- 6. Specific Epidemiological Background
 - 6.1. Communicable Diseases
 - 6.1.1. Tuberculosis
 - 6.1.2. Malaria

- 6.1.3. Diarrheal Diseases
- 6.1.4. Food Toxicities, Botulism
- 6.1.5. Anthrax
- 6.1.6. Hepatitis
- 6.1.7. Typhoid, Brucellosis, Rabies
- 6.1.8. Diphtheria
- 6.1.9. Acute Flaccid Paralysis
- 6.1.10. Sexually Transmitted Diseases
- 6.1.11. HIV/AIDS
- 6.2. Non-communicable Diseases
 - 6.2.1. Cardiovascular Diseases
 - 6.2.2. Cancer
 - 6.2.3. Accidents and Poisoning
 - 6.2.4. Diabetes Mellitus
 - 6.2.5. Iodine Deficiency Disorders
 - 6.2.6. Psychosocial and Mental Health
 - 6.2.7. Digestive System Diseases
 - 6.2.8. Respiratory System Diseases
 - 6.2.9. Nervous System and Sense Organs Diseases
 - 6.2.10. Genitourinary System Diseases
 - 6.2.11. Blood and Blood Forming Organ Diseases
- 7. History of Georgian Medicine
 - 7.1. The Pre-Christian Period
 - 7.2. The Christian Period
 - 7.3. The Russian Conquest Period
 - 7.4. The Period of Independence of Georgia
 - 7.5. The Soviet Period
- 8. Health Care Reforms
 - 8.1. Determinants and Objectives
 - 8.2. Legislation
 - 8.3. Decentralization of Health Care System Management
 - 8.4. Privatization
 - 8.5. Contracting
 - 8.6. The Impact of Changes in Health Care System
 - 8.6.1. Quality of Health Care System
 - 8.6.2. Solidarity and competition
 - 8.6.3. Efficiency
 - 8.6.4. Cost containment

9. Organizational Structure and Management
 - 9.1. Introduction
 - 9.2. Ministry of Labor, Social Affairs and Health
 - 9.3. Regional Health Authorities
 - 9.4. District Health Authorities
 - 9.5. Department of Public Health
 - 9.6. Department of Sanitary Surveillance and Hygienic Rationing (DSSHR)
 - 9.7. State Medical Insurance Company (SMIC)
 - 9.7.1. Internal organization of SMIC
 - 9.7.2. Insured Population
 - 9.7.3. Benefits Package
 - 9.7.4. Contracts
 - 9.7.5. Public Relations Framework
 - 9.7.6. Future Challenges
 - 9.8. Regional Municipal Fund
10. Health Care Delivery System
 - 10.1. Introduction
 - 10.2. Structure of the Soviet Health Care System
 - 10.3. Organization of Services After Reforms
 - 10.4. Primary Health Care Service
 - 10.5. Hospital Services
 - 10.6. Maternal and Child Health
11. Human Resources for Health
12. Health Care Finance
 - 12.1. Health Care Benefits
 - 12.2. Health Care Expenditures
 - 12.3. Levels for Financing
 - 12.4. Sources of Financing
 - 12.5. Transfers from the State Budget
 - 12.6. Insurance Compulsory Premiums
 - 12.7. Local Government
 - 12.8. Out-of-pocket Payments
 - 12.9. Voluntary Medical Insurance Premiums
 - 12.10. Humanitarian AID
 - 12.11. State Medical Insurance Company Revenues and Expenditures
 - 12.12. Department of Public Health Revenues and Expenditures
 - 12.13. Ministry of Health Program Revenues and Expenditures
13. Payment System for Provider

- 13.1. Financing of Ambulatory Care
- 13.2. Financing of Hospital Care
- 14. International Cooperation
- 15. Strategic Health Plan for Georgia
- Bibliography